Aigens

Aigens, the leading self-order and self-payment solution in Hong Kong. Established since 2013, Aigens is a team of top and daring software engineers, UX experts, and business consultants, who aspire to innovate the traditional F&B industry, which is behind in adopting technology. We want to make a change!

While we dream big, we also remain pragmatic and prudent in applying technologies in an operation-driven industry. Our careful execution and focus in customer service are trusted by leading F&B groups in Hong Kong, and Singapore.

Over the last 5 years since Aigens inception, we have established ourselves as the leader in self-ordering solution by working with the market leaders of the F&B industry. We look forward to helping you in this journey.

Our solution is designed for kiosk ranging from 15" to 46" and seamless transition to mobile tablets and on web, with credit card payment, mobile payment and more option.
